Serial Numbers Assist Police

Help Us to Help You

Each year, the citizens of Omaha lose millions of dollars of personal property due to theft. Many of the items could be recovered and returned, if the citizens would record the serial numbers of the property.

By taking a few minutes to record the serial numbers, citizens protect their property and provide a valuable tool for police to use in catching thieves, and returning the stolen property. Use this brochure to inventory your household items, and record the serial numbers.

Steps to Help Recover Stolen Property

- Complete the household inventory, including garage items.
- Record type of item, brand name and serial number.
- Remember to record serial numbers of newly purchased items, or gifts.
- Take photographs of valuable jewelry.
- Keep this record in a safe place, such as a safe deposit box, fireproof safe or a location outside of your home.

Steps to Help Keep Property from Being Stolen

- Keep garage doors shut and locked.
- Lock doors. Use deadbolt locks.
- Don't let strangers into your home.
- Don't leave items outside.
- Lock valuables, out of sight, in your car or truck.
- Call 911 about suspicious cars or activity in your neighborhood.
